FOREWORD

"Around the world", where shall we be? Some of us may remain here while others may scatter throughout the country or even throughout the world. But wherever we find ourselves, in a few years, we shall be able to open this book and turn these pages to recapture a few of the fondest memories which made our last school years so valuable. We may chuckle at remembering some of our crazy tricks or perhaps we may even find a warm tear for some of our dearer memories. Whatever or wherever, we shall always remember this, Our Class of 1958.

We hope to capture on these pages an everlasting account of our high school years.

DOROTHY M. JAMISON

DEDICATION

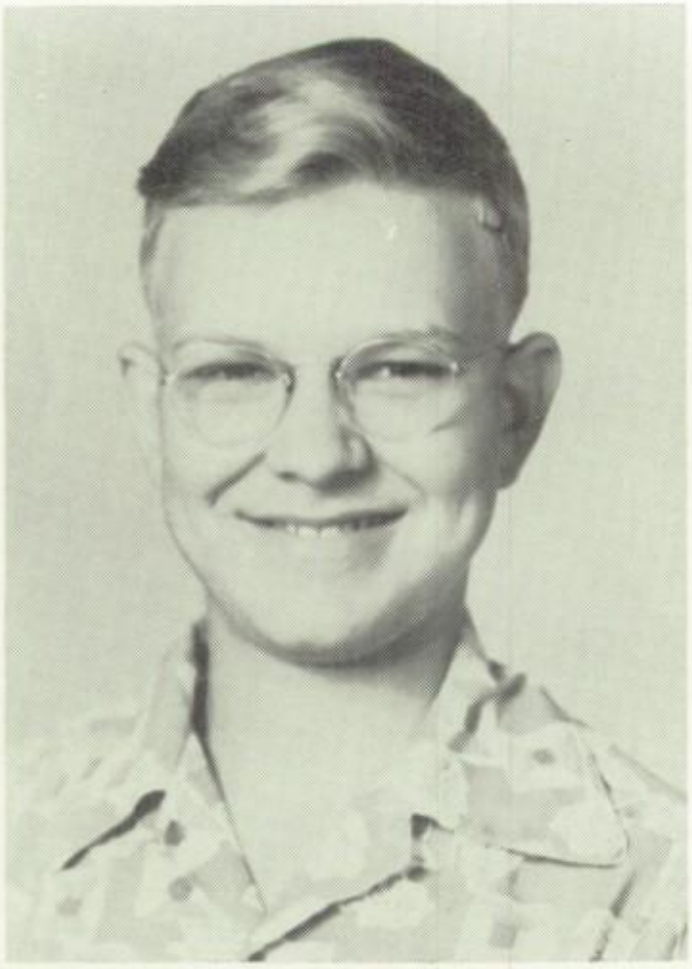
On our exciting and enjoyable trip "Around the World". we have had the honor to make acquaintance with many wonderful friends and teachers.

We find a true companion helping us on our journey. Her undying interest in helping her commercial students to become well equipped for the business world has been one of her main objectives as head of the Commercial Department. During her 25 years of service her willingness to help with programs, daily bulletins, booster tags, and general information sheets has proved her real value to us.

Thus, with true sincerity we, the seniors of 1958, have chosen to dedicate this, our yearbook, as a symbol of appreciation and gratitude to Miss Dorothy Jamison.



Charles Albert Imler

In Memoriam

We, The Senior Class of 1958, wish to dedicate this page in our yearbook to the memory of Charles Albert Imler who was unable to complete his journey "Around the World" with his classmates, and in this small way, pay tribute to him who is missed by his family and by his classmates.

Charles was born August 12, 1939 and died May 18, 1953, while we were still in the seventh grade. He will always be remembered for his friendly smile and his adventuresome ways.

IN APPRECIATION

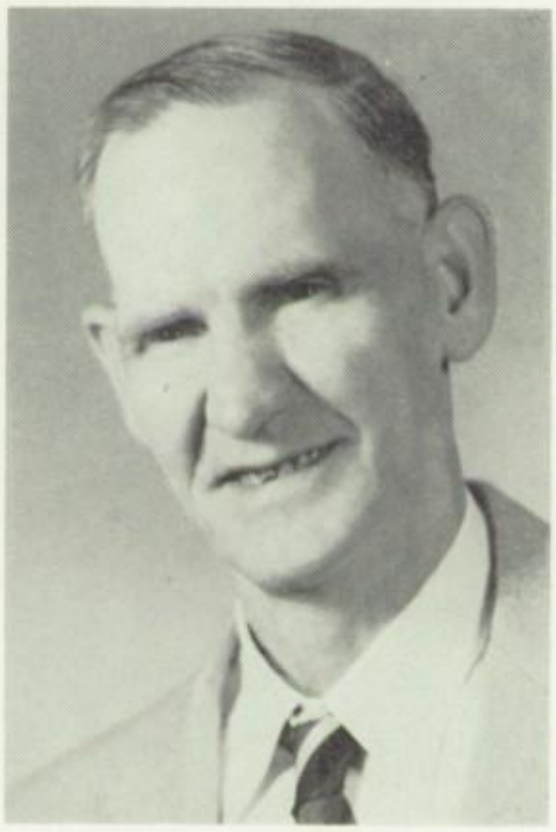
LESTER MANN



JOSEPH GARMAN

We would like to show our appreciation in this way to Joseph Garman and Lester Mann who for many years have served the school.

These men went with us on the latter half of our trip "Around the World". "Les" and "Joe" were always around when we had to be at school at night to add a funny bit here and there, and are a great help when we lose something.

In this way we want to say "THANKS."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Advised by Robert Breslin, the Student Council chose these officers for the 1957-1958 school term:

President ..... Bernard Berkstresser
Vice-President ..... Arthur Moore
Secretary ..... Barbara Clark
Treasurer ..... Judy Glasgow

As we travel around the world, we stop off at Greece, where the foundation of modern government was laid. From these beginnings our Student Council has learned to form their own modern rules and regulations to govern the conduct of the students in our school.

This group, elected by their classmates, assist the administration in providing for the general welfare of the student body.

It is also a means by which the school may give to its students the opportunity of student leadership and responsibility.

The Student Council receives and expresses all student opinions. They advance the best interests of the students, administration, and the faculty. They also act as official representatives of the student body.

On December 28 Bernard Berkstresser, Frances Baltz, Arthur Moore and John Tucci of the Student Council represented Bellwood-Antis on "Youth Answers" a television show originating in the WFBG TV studios in Altoona, Pa.

Our Student Council sends two delegates every year to the state convention of Student Councils. This year, Jim Weight and Joanne Benner went as delegates from Bellwood-Antis.

TRATION

CHARLES O. METCALF
Supervising Principal

Jules Verne, famous author, wrote "Around The World In Eighty Days". Soon travelers flying toward the sun will go around the world in an incredibly short time. Man's advancement and progress if foretold 20 years ago would have been faced with incredulity. Progress is being made. You are of an era in which the significance of our changing world can only be appreciated with vision. Today man must adapt faster than ever before. It takes a keen mind to comprehend your theme.

Jules Verne is of the past. We move faster today. You may be but a cog in the wheel, but if a cog is broken the efficiency of the machine is impaired. You may not get around the world. Future achievement is bounded only by the potential. Your potential was determined by the Almighty. His powers are boundless. Develop to your potential and the thought "Around The World" will be easy to comprehend, the act easy to attain.

Sincerely,
CHARLES O. METCALF

"Around the World I've Searched for You" — I'm sure each of our prospective graduates is acquainted with the words of this current tune, but as you look in retrospect, it isn't exactly the search of one individual for another that is the matter of concern in our world of today, but the search for something that will give him courage and faith to make today's world a better place in which to live.

Down through the ages people have lived in periods of turmoil and despair without knowing how to obtain peace within, and have prophecied great calamities unaware of or refusing to acknowledge the one great Shepherd who watches over, comforts, and protects the sheep within his fold.

We of today's world must have and display courage and faith that will completely undermine any aggressor's intentions of world domination, and so make our lives shining lights that will cast their beams "Around the World" for peace. This is His commission for us and my challenge to you.

WASHINGTON TRIP

During the fall of 1957 we, the Senior Class of 1958, made the annual trip to Washington, D. C. The dates chosen for this excursion were November 13, 14, and 15, 1957. We toured the nation's capital and visited many national shrines.

One of the most impressive sights was the National Cemetery at Arlington, Virginia. While we were at the cemetery, we viewed the changing of the guard.

Another impressive spot was the huge Washington D. C. airport, where we watched many planes take off and land.

The Woodner Hotel served as our base for this part of our trip "Around the World". Many good meals at the various cafeterias that Washington is famous for and an enjoyable evening at the Lotus Club all added zest to our senior trip.

All in all, we feel that this phase of our high school education taught us something which cannot be learned in a classroom, we gained a deeper appreciation for our heritage and a more profound knowledge of how our government works.

Thus we came closer and closer to the termination of our trip "Around the World".

Chorus

The choral department of the Bellwood-Antis High School, started on their tour of foreign countries in September, 1957 with Ethel Mae Wilson as their guide.

The party of tourists included a mixed chorus composed of seventy-five members. Acting as accompanists for the group were Judith Glasgow, Carmen Zetler, and Harold Wills. This chorus sang secular and sacred music and presented two concerts during the tour. A concert of sacred music at Christmas time and the Annual Spring Concert.

The mixed chorus was represented at Annual District Chorus Festival at Mount Union by three members: Frances Baltz, Barry Miller, and Art Moore.

Appearing with the mixed chorus during the tour were three smaller groups: the Vesper Choir, the Girls' Ensemble, and the Boys' Quartette.

The Vesper choir, composed of members from the mixed chorus, specialized in sacred music.

A very popular travel folder seen around Bellwood-Antis is our school paper, the Hylite. The Hylite is used as a guide by the students in their trip "Around the World". Not only does this travel folder act as a schedule of events for the students from one month to the next, but it also brings them up to date on the latest news.

Through the efforts of the following people the Hylite has been a great success this year. The Editorial Staff includes: Frances Baltz, Editor; Carmen Zetler, Lucy Ann Metcalf and Betty Bender, Associate Editors; Richard McCoy, Sports Editor; Bob Kinch, Assistant Sports Editor; Suzanne Dinges, Dianne Estep, Mary Ellen Campbell, Judy Glasgow, David Kurtz, George Amos, Donna Jewell, Virginia Bettwy, Sarah McCloskey, Peggy Taylor, Sally Hildabrand and Deborah Demmy.

The Business Staff includes: Peggy Evans, Judy Moser, Mary Kay Bookhamer, John Lovell, David Knox, Robert Van Cleve, Carol Hollen, Suzan Enfield, Jane Zetler, Judith Kinch, Janet Powell, Patricia O'Dellick, Linda Sharer and Linda Schucker. Mrs. Gertrude Metcalf and Miss Marjorie Campbell are the advisors.

MASQUE AND WHIG

Standing — Homer Templeton, Shirley Carroll, John Golding, Mr. Walker, Elmer Myers, Janet Walker, Frances Wolfkill, Nora Brannen, Frances Baltz, Joan Rumberger, Shirley Gensamer, Joan Crosser, Bernard Berkstresser, Barry Miller, Judy Glasgow.

Our trip "Around the World" included time out for a try at the theater. Howard Walker assisted the student players as guide. His able direction permitted us to present two plays of the first quality; "The Lucky Accident" and "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" were chosen to be presented.

Masque and Whig for 1957-58 was organized in September 1957. At the first meeting, Ron Fields was elected president and Nora Brannen was elected vice-president.

The Masque and Whig club is made up of seniors who are interested in dramatics. The first club was organized in 1940, with a membership of ten senior girls and was known as the Bellwood players.

The thirty-five tourists traveling with the class of 1958 gave their rendition of "The Lucky Accident", a farcial comedy in three acts by Wilbur Braun. It was presented to the people of Bellwood-Antis area on November 22, 1957.

The second and last play presented by the troupe was "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" This play was staged on April 18, 1958 near the end of our trip.

And so, another phase of our trip "Around the World" of Bellwood-Antis is completed.

SENIOR PLAY

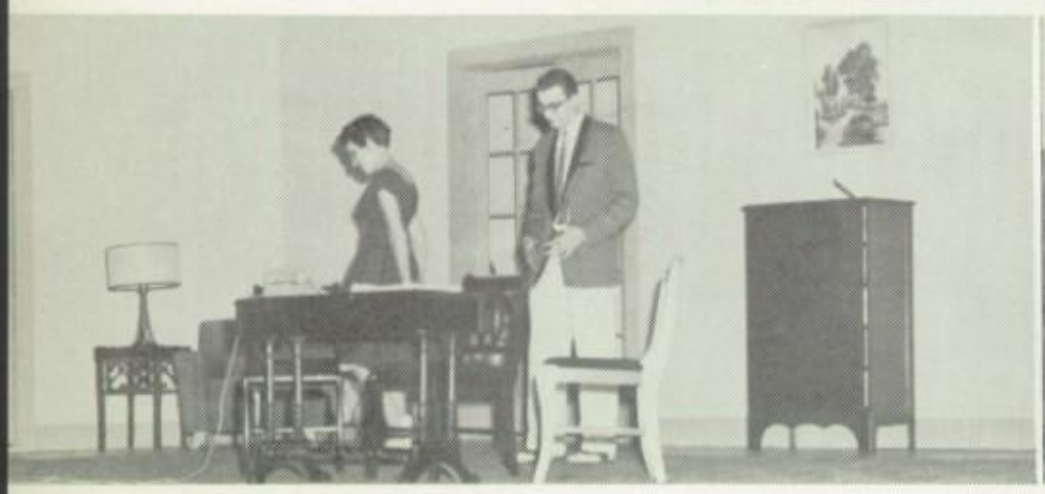
During the 1957-1958 school term the senior class presented two plays; one comedy and one mystery play were enjoyed by the audience. The Masque and Whig club, organized every year by the senior class and advised by Howard A. Walker, set a precedent as they voted to attack the double task of two plays in an effort to swell the senior class treasury.

Chosen for presentation were "The Lucky Accident" by Wilbur Braun and "Who Killed Aunt Caroline" by Grant Richards.

"Accident" was the touching love story, made farcial, of a level-headed young lass, Fern Hunter (Judy Glasgow) and a weakminded lad, Les Noyes (Barry Miller).



Mrs. Clara Hunter (Carol Hollen), a social climber, saw marriage in her daughter's future, but not to Les — to Walton Knox (Calvin Barley), a hometown boy who, supposedly, was a success in the business world of Wall Street.

Lotta Noyes (Bonnie Hollen), who headed the aristocracy of her hometown, insisted that Fern, of the shallow-minded Hunters, wasn't good enough to marry her Leslie. Humbird Hunter (Karl Chelgren), a well-meaning small town business man was very henpecked and very much in favor of Fern's marrying Leslie Noyes.

Pestering everyone, all the time was Honey Hunter (Joan Crosser). Miss Pike (Eunice Strunk) a community-minded policewoman, unsuccessfully tried to impress the seriousness of a robbery charge upon Clara. Amelda Ames (Judith Kinch) waited on the Hunters' every wim, when she was awake. Nella Lawson (Peg Evans) an ugly young woman "stole" Walton from Fern.

Homer Meginnis (Ron Fields) pressed the robbery charges against Mrs. Hunter to no avail.

All these characters and incidents added up to a sum total of laughter on the evening of November 22, 1958.

"Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" was a serious mystery-drama presented on April 25, 1958. Aunt Caroline (Eunice Strunk) was a hard, wealthy woman. Her only brother had invoked her father's wrath and was disinherited. His widow, Eleanor Endicott (Rosanne Beichler), and children: Riccy (Jim Weight), Beryl (Joan Crosser), Cissy (Kerry Wilson), and Agnes (Bonnie Hollen) were barely eking a living out of Agnes' job at the community library.

Being almost destitute, Mrs. Endicott asked Aunt Caroline for some money. When Aunt Caroline and Miss Mabbitt (Judy Glasgow), her secretary-companion visited the Richard Endicott residence, Caroline was poisoned.

Detective Clayton (Bob Rupert) of the Middleton police force endeavored to solve the mystery of Aunt Caroline's death. He was decidedly hindered by Dan Donovan (Barry Miller) and Dave Thompson (Bernie Berkstresser) who furnished the romantic interests for "Who Killed Aunt Caroline".

Una Hagaman (Nora Brannen), the world's worst pianist and Miss Louise McLain (Loretta Yetter), Riccy's chemistry teacher, added charm and spice to the ever-thickening plot.

Assisting Mr. Walker, were student directors; Roxanne Renney and Shirley Gensamer filled this position for the comedy while Carol Hollen and Judith Kinch acted in this capacity for the mystery play.

SEASON'S SUMMARY

Although Bellwood-Antis' record for the past year showed a deficit in scores it didn't show the time and team-work that went into making this year's team.

Because of a lack of experience and manpower the result in actual scoring was slight. The team was noted for its good manners and sports-man-like conduct.

We wish to take this opportunity to wish Coach Galbraith and the future teams the best of luck in the coming football campaigns, and also to let them know that the school and community are behind them.

Starting the season the Blue Devils dropped the opener to a larger Tyrone team, 32 to 0.

The second game proved to be more interesting, after giving Moshannon a rough time, the Mainliners bowed 19 to 0.

Bellwood proved no match for the powerful Huntingdon and Richland Township teams, who won 38-0 and 40-0, respectively.

Saxton offered more resistance than the Blue Devils could hold and won, 18-0.

The Captain Jack and Lewistown Classics were canceled this year because of the flu-bug which took its toll in this season's games.

Roaring Spring with fast backs downed Bellwood, 19-0.

Rounding-out the season, Bellwood met an undefeated team from Hollidaysburg and battled to a loss.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of 1958, being of shaken mind and broken body, but fine spirits, are about to depart from the hallowed halls of B. A. H. S. Having finally battled our way to the front door, through the tumultuous population, we wish to leave behind some of the things which have made our years here so pleasant and enlightening.

We have found that learning and fun go hand-in-hand at Bellwood.

As we cast a last, forlorn look back at our Alma Mater, we recall the many episodes in which we have participated. It is with heavy hearts that we now bequeath these precious memories and most treasured possessions to our many friends, the underclassmen who help to make Bellwood-Antis the fine school that it is.

Nora Ann Brannen, the class "shortie" wills her lack of height to Gary Day, who sure could use it.

Paul Barley wills his big mouth to Dick Stonebrook so that Mrs. Beach need not miss it in Business English class.

To Donna Pritchett goes sister Margie's slightly used schoolbooks.

Barbara Clark leaves her crown and beautiful smile to the next football queen in hopes that she will enjoy it as much as Barb did.

Kerry Wilson leaves her commercial books to anyone who has the energy to bend down and pick them up.

A future drummer of the B.A.H.S. band receives Bonnie Hollen's drum, and band uniform which she leaves behind unwillingly.

To Paul McCaulley goes Beverly Crain's hard earned driver's license. (Drive carefully, Paul)

Rosanne Beichler wills her "butterflies" to Linda Sharer.

Any young girl who aspires to be a cheerleader may have Jane Conrad's much used uniform. (Wear it proudly!!)

To her brother Bob, Judy Kinch leaves her love of jitterbugging.

Deanna Yingling receives Bonnie Gilmore's much used driver's license.

From William Rinker, nephew Allen gains his future. (What's Bill going to do without it???)

Iris Blazier receives one beautiful head of hair from sister Darlene.

To next year's senior class treasurer goes Shirley Carroll's ability to juggle the books. (Happy juggling!!)

Janet Walker, who has taken possession of Mrs. Beach, wills her to any brave junior.

Norma McEllwain receives Darlene Himes' car.

Rena Miller wills all her teachers to the juniors, warning them to take care and to be as good as Rena was. (????)

All Darryl Nelson's stupidness goes to the junior class.

Patsy Wolfe receives all of Shirley Gensamer's little used commercial books.

Lucille Laird wishes to will to the sophomores our (the senior class) ability to find, or make trouble.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Carol Weston leaves the teachers to the younger students.

Fran Wolfkill leaves her long-distance telephone calls to any underclassman who has a fellow in the service.

Jan Forshey bestows upon some junior her gun. (The one she carries in the band, of course.)

Peggy Evans leaves to some lucky junior her good times at the Woodner. (Did she say lucky??)

Joan Rumberger leaves nothing to nobody nowhere.

Frances Baltz leaves the saying, "Three o'clock and all is well" to any Washington bound junior.

To the juniors from Bob Rupert goes the party in room 1224-A of the Woodner Hotel.

Anna Jean Pope leaves her haircut to Mary Ellen Campbell.

To her brother Charles, Judy Glasgow gives her wavy hair.

Some talented sophomore receives Janet Roub's Vesper Choir robe.

To anyone crazy enough to go after it, Loretta Yetter wills the flashbulb that she dropped in the Potomic River. (Any takers??)

Eunice Strunk bequeaths her Mardi Gras crown to a deserving junior who likes fun as much as she does.

Ronnie Fields wills his potty (?) to some junior girl. (Anyone we know, Ron?)

Donna Boyer leaves the Chevy to anyone who thinks that he can make it run.

To some junior high girl goes Lutitia Caswell's ability to sew.

To her cousin, Vicki Cherry leaves her sparkling eyes.

To her younger brother, John, Mary Lou Cook (Cookie) leaves the family nickname.

Joan Crosser, alias Froggie, wills to Jerry her husky voice.

Nancy Gault leaves.

To some likeable junior, Judy Moser leaves her love of Buicks.

Upon Glenda Morrison, Margie Oswald bequeaths her long, long fingernails.

To the brothers that he doesn't have, Calvin Barley leaves his nickname (Oats).

Homer Templeton wills his F.F.A. award to anyone who can earn it.

Cindy Sharer, who likes art, leaves her drawing ability to sister Linda.

Linda Schucker gets Barbara McGeary's short hair.

Patty Rabuck bequeaths her desire to be a nurse upon Ann Partner.

Jim Sitman wills his car (??) to any junior boy who can manage it.

Roxanne Renny leaves her black hair to Mary Brunner.

Gary Wertz leaves his Merc behind because it won't go any more.

To Donnie Mountain, Ken Rutledge leaves his skill as a football player. (Good luck, Donnie)

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Carol Hollen leaves her band uniform and sax to some lucky person.

Bob Benner wills his paper route to some young lad who doesn't have cold feet.

Harold Wills leaves his love of music to all of his brothers and sisters.

George Dinges receives Jim Weight's skill at racking up those baskets.

Charles Benedetto will leave his "little red truck" to anyone who needs it.

Jerry Sneath bequeaths his trips to Tyrone to anyone who likes the "little town down the road."

To Jerry Grazier, goes Herb Coulter's blond, blond hair.

To anyone who isn't particularly interested in studies, Cliff George gives his ability to "goof-off".

The future president of the Student Council receives the gavel and best wishes from Bernard Berkstresser.

Jerry Bollinger happily leaves his bandages behind.

From Jim Brunner, Dave Parks gains ability to make the girls wilt.

"Woody" Chelgren bequeaths upon Dan Goss his aptness on the dance floor.

To sister Susie, goes Bill Enfield's brains. (DID he say brains??)

Harvey Cornelius Estep, better known as Mickey, hopes someone wants his name, which he would be more than willing to leave behind.

Bob Forshey is another one who leaves nothing to nobody nowhere.

Don Fowler leaves his trips to the "big city" to someone who has as good a reason for going there as Don did.

To Mike Drass, John Golding wills his record as an explorer scout.

To brother David, Jim Green leaves his love of senior activities.

Spike Gunsallus bequeaths upon Dayton his ability to stay out of trouble. (So he stayed out of trouble, did he?)

Don Kutruff leaves his love of farming to Harry Knox, Jr.

Elmer Myers wills his "position" at Williamsons' to some young energetic lad who is willing to work.

Barry Miller leaves to his brother those long, long walks to school.

Galen Murray leaves to any slow-fingered typist his high (?) rate of words per minute.

Gordon Miller wills all the pumpkins in Bellwood to himself so that he can finally get full of them.

All Art Partner's fun on the tractor goes to the Junior F.F.A. boys.

From Jerry Noon to his fellow worker at the Anchor, Jane Campbell goes the fun that can be had while working (?).

Left behind by Jim Ross, we find one very wet seventh grade English book, including water pistol.

This brings our trip "Around the World" of Bellwood-Antis nearer to the final trip down the aisle on June 5, 1958, our Graduation Day, now as all classes, we will scatter to the four winds as we go forth to make our mark on the world. May we always remember the fun, the work and the tears that have made our high school days the happiest of our lives.
